Yesterday

Children, life would be so easy livin' in God's Garden bed as one,
measuring with human kindness,
and not with what we've lost or what we've won.

Today

People, let us get together; the strong ones help the tired and the weak. Stop shouting at each other, and give our heavy hearts a chance to speak.

Tomorrow

Forget yesterday, today, and tomorrow, and give this tired life a brand new lease; let's take yesterday, today, and tomorrow, and put them all together in a brand new day called PEACE.

PARTICIPATION

Princess Hall

Watching television and playing cards seem to be the thing to do here. Other alternatives appear to be studying, if you are able to find a rare moment when it's quiet, and waiting for phone calls that never come. It has been noted that Princess Hall is what one has not been back to all day, and what has not been left all weekend. The typical female student goes home to it at night and "home" from it on weekends. Often, the occupants help grades go down and independence go up. But at the close of the year when students leave Princess Hall, good times as well as bad are all remembered.

Autumn Royalty

Autumn Maids

Autumn Frolics

People at the Frolics' games take their lives in their hands. It does not matter whether they are participants or spectators. It all seems to start with buckets of water, and raw eggs. Then comes the diaper race along with the three-legged sack race which takes a lot of concentration and coordination. A potato race was scheduled but the anticipation of the legendary mudhole became too much to resist. No matter how hard one tries to avoid the mud, someone always seems to find him. But, without being drenched, egged and thrown in the mud, Autumn Frolics would not be half the fun or as well remembered as it is.

Kolisch

The internationally acclaimed hypnotist and mentalist, John Kolisch, presented a three-hour stage performance at ASU-Beebe in October. Kolisch is reputed to be the worlds fastest hypnotist. He demonstrated mass hypnosis, post-hypnotic suggestion, and extra-sensory perception, all with audience participation.

Campus Singers

Music is a large part of everyone's life, and the ASU-Beebe Singers provide music ranging from Country-Western to Spirituals. They also furnish entertainment throughout the state, which includes tours of several high schools, and a performance at Dogpatch, USA. The Singers are a rather elite group and auditions are required before one is allowed to become a member. At about every occasion, the Singers will be available providing an added flavor of entertainment.

ASU-Beebe Rodeo Activities

The casual observer in the stands has very little knowledge of what goes into producing a rodeo. There are numerous events for those interested in such things as bare bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping, barrel racing and team roping. There is a certain amount of danger in rodeos but most participants find it to be fun and financially rewarding.

Who's Who In American Two Year Colleges

There was a record number of 23 students named to Who's Who in American Two Year Colleges at Arkansas State University—Beebe this year. Each student must receive a nomination from a faculty member and the faculty member usually has the criteria of diversification in many academic and non-academic fields as a norm in selecting students. Once the nominees are finalized, the names go to a co-curricular committee which has the final selection task. The qualifications of each student are checked and the list is completed. Because there were so many honorees this year, only their names will be given and the biographical information excluded.

Homecoming 1976 at ASU-BB

Homecoming at ASU-BB was special this year and included a lot of lovely young ladies who were all interested in becoming the queen. The competition was so stiff that a runoff election had to be held to choose a queen. The contestants were as follows: Sherryl Fox, Lynne Talbot, Wanda Peer, Rose Watkins, Vickie Marshall, Cindy Humphries, Donna Rice, Vicki Wolfe, Nancy Graves, and Paula Spence. Rose Watkins, representing the Agri Club was crowned queen. Other activities were captured by Warrior photographer Donnie Phillips.

Quapaw Hall

Study, work and pleasure go hand in hand at Quapaw Hall. The stunning leadership of Phil Petray adds to the interesting, and sometimes exciting, life of a dorm resident. Many things are learned behind the closed doors of Quapaw Hall. Just a few of the minor lessons are: The five easy steps to losing money at poker; how to study for a physical science test and listen to Z.Z. Topp at the same time; and most important of all, how to get along with a building full of the craziest people you will ever meet. Sometimes, without realizing it, the dorm residents even learn a little about life.

Miss ASU- Beebe

The Miss ASU-Beebe Pageant, held in conjunction with the Beebe Jr. Miss Pageant, is the climax of many long, hard hours of rehearsal. The number of contestants may be few, but the enthusiasm of the girls can never be underestimated. The girls compete in swimwear, talent, and evening gown divisions. Although, most people do not realize it, it takes a special kind of girl to get up in front of a large group of people and perform. The anticipation and anxieties are tremendous.

Special guests and the Campus Singers highlight the program, along with the professionalism of Rick Chudmelka, Master of Ceremonies.

Mounting tension, congratulations, and optimism for next years pageant are the key words for the Miss ASU-Beebe Pageant.

Mr. ASU—Beebe

The 1975-76 Mr. ASU—BB contest left a little to be desired in the field of beauty. However, those who participated tried to make up for their lack of native charm in the areas of talent and creativeness. Matt Anderson emerged as the winner (?) of the contest held on November 20, 1975 in the Auditorium. The contestants were judged in two major divisions. These were in talent and evening gowns. First runner up was Perry Rice and second runner up was Brad Treece. Alas, the third runner up was Kenneth, "Peanutia", Brown.

Even though the program could have been a total flop, some beauty was interjected by the appearance of Miss Susan Morrow, the reigning Miss ASU—BB.

Susan played the guitar and sang. Master of ceremonies for the event was Phil Petray who did nothing but talk. Other contestants were Freddy Davidson, Mr. Congeniality, and Rick Ashley, Jeff Rogers and Jay Nemec.

Agri Day 1976

Agri Day was held on March 17 at ASU—BB and there was a bigger turnout than was expected. This was the twenty first annual Agri judging day. Areas in which the participants competed included judging the interior and exterior quality of eggs and hen egg production as well as ready to cook poultry in the poultry division. Students also participated in identifying retail cuts of meats of both pork and beef.

Also, seed identification, cotton and hay judging, planting seed and recognition of certified seed were other competitive events for the high school students from all over the state of Arkansas. Dairy cattle and dairy products were two other categories as was livestock judging. Other students competed in the farm mechanics division and land judging and forestry. Denver Nettles seemed very happy about the participation in the event and it certainly did cause moments of confusion on the campus for a day.

COMPETITION

ASU-BB Roundball

As the 1975-76 basketball season began, everyone wondered whether it would be a successful one. This doubt was brought about by the graduation of two team members who added so much last year. These two, William Porter and Wayne Harshaw, sparked the Indians last season and attained all conference status while at ASU-BB.

Nevertheless, the season got underway with an opening win over Southern Baptist. Then, the Indians dropped four in a row and the doubts again cropped up. The fans became disinterested during this slump. The next few home games proved to be more interesting and the Indians won five games in a row. All five of these games were in conference play. Needless to say, with this big winning streak, the ASU roundball program drew more interested spectators and the crowds once again began to flock into the gymnasium to watch the big red Indians. Coach Napoleon Cross guided his team so that they were in the running for the conference title throughout the season. Little Danny Ellis gave many superior performances all year. Not enough can be said about team effort and the many hours of practice that went into making the 1975-76 a successful and enjoyable one.

ASU-BB Maids

The 1975-76 Indian maids had a successful season with a 9 and 4 record. High point scorer for the season was Debbie Tuggle, a sophomore from Lepanto with 15 points per game and a total of 213 points for the season. Bonnie Knowlton from St. Charles was second with a 12 point average. Knowlton was also the leading rebounder with 72 defensive and 35 offensive rebounds. Doris Porter was second in rebounds and lead the team in percentage shooting from the field with an average of 66 per cent.

Although the maids were a young team this year, they participated in the Region II tournament at Ada, Oklahoma. They were defeated by a strong Murray A & M team. This was the first year to participate in the NJCAA regionals and with a more experienced team, the Maids hope to return again next year.

Cheerleaders

The spark that lit the flame of the ASU-Beebe Indians were the 1976 Cheerleaders. Being a cheerleader is no easy job. Many long hours of practice go into the "simple" yells that students hear. Each girl must have a strong voice, pride in her school and the courage to accept defeat as well as victory.

A Typical Day at ASU-BB

The balls have to come out somewhere.

Whamo! How did that ball taste?

No Dumping or littering or smoking or lights or ...?

Hello! I am a weed.

"Running Bear" spots his target.

Oh! Where is the rest of the staff?

Intramurals

Exercise, competition, and just plain fun are available for students looking for something to do after school hours. Football, tennis, softball, and basketball are a few of the sports for groups or individuals in the intramural program.

All students are eligible to participate in the program. Healthful exercise is an important part of college life. Through an active intramural sports program, ASU-Beebe seeks to provide wholesome extra-curriculum activity and entertainment.

Intramurals

Commuters

The commuter is often a veteran with an off campus job, a domestic engineer trying to obtain a degree, or just an ordinary student right out of high school still living close enough to the ASU—BB campus to drive back and forth from home every day. Regardless of the classification, the commuter plays an important part in the scheduling of classes and student participation.

Often a victim of bad weather, car trouble and speeding tickets, the commuter is usually dedicated and trying to further his or her education. They come to Beebe every day from different directions sometimes driving as many as fifty miles, one way, to learn. Many hold down full time jobs in addition to their studies and many more work part time and attend school part time.

ORGANIZATION

Student Government Association

Phillip Petray served as the new advisor of the Student Government Association this year. A Student voice in directing affairs on ASU-Beebe Campus is made through the SGA. Opportunities are open for all students to make their opinions known through this organization, hoping to give them valuable training for future responsibilities as citizens. However, the SGA is known mainly for sponsoring dances, which usually attract enthusiastic crowds. Little thanks are given the SGA for the many activities it sponsors, so the 1976 Warrior staff would like to take this opportunity to thank them.

Baptist Student Union

Not only does the BSU sponsor the Superstar Contest held each spring, but it sees to the spiritual and physical needs of the students of ASU-Beebe both on and off campus. Their many worthwhile accomplishments include helping underprivileged children and senior citizens. Their purposes are to introduce Jesus Christ to students on Campus through spiritually oriented activities.

Delta Psi Omega

Delta Psi Omega is composed of students who have made outstanding contributions in the field of dramatic activities at Arkansas State University at Beebe. Delta Psi Omega is a national honorary drama organization for students in two year colleges and universities and its purpose is to stimulate interest in theater participation throughout the country. Various productions are presented by the drama department at Beebe and awards are bestowed at the end of the year for those who have contributed greatly. This year's Delta Psi members are: (Seated left to right) Terri Edwards, Robin Kennedy and Brad Simmons. (Standing left to right) are Benny Nettles, Alan Tatum and B. Tom Phillips.

Rodeo Club

The often overlooked backbone of ASU-Beebe is the Rodeo Club which has done much to prove itself. The many accomplishments of the past few years have set this college apart from others. The Club's objectives are to promote rodeo as a sport and to promote and develop good fellowship among rodeo fans. The rodeo program also serves as one of the best recruiting factors of the college. From participating in the Ozark Region of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association to Tuesday night buck-outs, the rodeo team of ASU-Beebe keeps busy and encourages competition.

The Vanguard

Under the direction of a new advisor, Doug Mays, and the first female editor, Terry Kovach, the ASU-Beebe school newspaper established itself, once again, as a useful communications tool for the students and faculty. Keeping everyone informed is a big job, and the Vanguard staff has yet to abandon that responsibility.

Checking out the campus gossip, and compiling the latest basketball scores, as well as the other news gathering functions, take up most of the staff's time. Published monthly, this paper is meant to provide news and entertainment media for ASU-Beebe students and administration.

Agri Club

The Agri cookout, the Agri Banquet, and Agri Day highlight the year for the largest organization on campus. The members, who are all agriculture majors, sponsor many campus activities for the entire student body. One of the Agri Club's most important goals is to promote cooperation between Agri majors and the rest of the student body.

Veteran's Club

The Vets Club is probably one of the most respected groups on campus. They help Veteran students make the transition from military life to college life. In the classroom, their many years of experience seem to add a lot to the courses and make them interesting and stimulating. Each year they sponsor many social events as well as functioning as a service organization for Veterans on campus.

Liberal Arts

The area of Liberal Arts is designed to give a student a wide selection of courses so that he will have the basic background for an field of study. Psychological counseling, communication through the media center and history courses designed to acquaint students with our world's development are all included here at ASU-BB under the major heading of liberal arts. Equally important are the various physical education courses that are designed to stress the importance of physical fitness. Tennis, volleyball, speedball, basketball, archery and dance classes are just a few of the specialities that are taught in the physical education department. Also, such beneficial courses as health and safety and even a course in motorcycle safety are taught. With all of these sports to choose from, one should keep reasonably fit.

Applied Arts

Our world is changing every day and the need for food production from the nation's farmers is essential. The objective of the Agriculture department at ASU-BB is to introduce the individual student to the basics in food production and in caring for those who do not know how to feed themselves.

Another area of importance in the applied arts field is that of training tomorrow's leaders to be wise in the area of money management. Data processing, accounting and economics are all offered as a basis for those students who wish to major in business. The faculty in this field of study counsels the student and endeavors to prepare him so he will be able to assume a responsible leadership role in the world of business or agriculture.

Science Mathematics

The science and math departments at ASU-BB are equipped to handle any question that might arise. Such instruments as slide rules, dissecting kits and calculators are common sights in the Math and Science building. Courses are offered to give a basic understanding of mathematical and scientific concepts and there are numerous advanced courses for those who have already decided what field of study they wish to pursue. The individualization that is practiced in these two areas is reflected by the quality of student that leaves the Beebe campus and goes on to other institutions in the state. The facilities in the science and math departments are designed to aid any student in gaining an understanding of his particular area of study.

The demands that a college curriculum places on a yearbook staff is monumental. There are pictures to be made, faculty and staff schedules that conflict with the photographer's classes and there is always a problem with the staff member's finding time to work on the yearbook.

Coordination of the few staff members does not seem like it would be much trouble but the tasks of organizing the material so that there will not be a duplication of effort is quite troublesome. However, this trouble beridden staff has done a good job of producing a "memory book" that fairly well captures the events that took place at ASU—BB during the 1975-76 school year. It has been a full year and many lessons have been learned painstakingly. The Warrior Staff hopes that the book will serve as an aid to those students who attended and learned together during this year.

ours,
a world of tommorrow
built on the dreams of yesterday.
We,
the children gone by,
we have laughed,
dreamed,
smiled,
loved,
then somewhat lost
and now we find ourselves

no longer the children we once were but not yet
the men we shall be,
realizing that lollipops
and bicycle-scraped elbows have slowly faded
and merely become an integral part of the mirage we call memories,
weeping for somewhere
along the way
we have lost yesterday
and are not quite sure where to find tommorrow.
